PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES (PWD) & EMPLOYMENT: WHAT DO PWD, JOB COACHES & EMPLOYERS NEED TO KNOW

This book was written with consideration of the importance of raising awareness and providing information to the general public about Persons with Disabilities (PWD) and employment-related issues concerning this group. Several fundamental or key aspects that need to be known and understood by society, especially organizations intending to employ PWD, are discussed. The book also aims to offer some insight into the services provided by placement officers, Job Coaches, and similar roles, as well as the collaboration between PWD, their families, Job Coaches, and employers that can be strengthened to support the placement of PWD in organizations.

PENDIDIKAN BERSEPADU KOMPREHENSIF SATU GAGASAN PEMIKIRAN

COMPREHENSIVE INTEGRATED EDUCATION: A CONCEPT OF THOUGHT

.....

This book compiles all the important concepts directly related to the concept of integrated education, starting from the most basic understanding (the concept of knowledge) to an education system that includes formal education, family education, and community education. This comprehensive collection of concepts is considered thorough because it contains all the essential elements needed to implement the concept of integrated education at all levels and sectors of life, whether as policymakers, implementers, evaluators, or practitioners. Each main chapter of this book is provided with illustrations that will help readers quickly and easily grasp an overall understanding. These illustrations will then merge to form a large framework that comprehensively explains the concept of integrated education. Muslims today should have the courage to rise again in their own framework, rather than being tied to the current educational system, which is designed in such a way as to bind educators to the status quo of the existing system.

STUDY SKILLS FOR GENERAL SURGERY: A GUIDE FOR MEDICAL STUDENTS

Dental treatment today has advanced in line with technology and scientific developments. Dental care is no longer limited to fillings and extractions but has expanded to include preventive treatments, as well as gum and root treatments. This book discusses preventive dental treatments that are not widely known, such as non-surgical gum treatments and periodontal surgery. Additionally, the dangers of smoking to oral health are also discussed. The writing style is casual and easy to understand, avoiding overly scientific language. The book also addresses various questions, particularly in the field of periodontics and public dental health. Lastly, it has been written by a group of dental experts who aim to spread knowledge about dental health to the public so they can benefit from it.

EDUCATION

A NEW EXPANDED EDITION: NURTURING A BALANCED PERSON: THE LEADERSHIP CHALLENGE

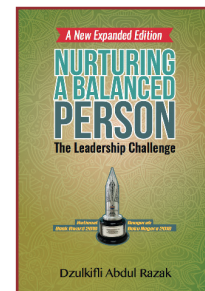

We commit with a sense of urgency to a single, renewed education agenda that is holistic, ambitious and aspirational, leaving no one behind. This new vision is fully captured by the proposed SDG 4 "Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all" and its corresponding targets.

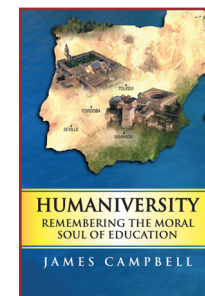

It is transformative and universal, ... and addresses global and national education challenges. It is inspired by a humanistic vision of education and development based on human rights and dignity; social justice; inclusion; protection; cultural, linguistic and ethnic diversity; and shared responsibility and accountability. We reaffirm that education is a public good, a fundamental human right and a basis for guaranteeing the realisation of other rights. It is essential for peace, tolerance, human fulfilment and sustainable development. We recognise education as key to achieving full employment and poverty eradication. We will focus our efforts on access, equity and inclusion, quality and learning outcomes, within a lifelong learning approach.

HUMANIVERSITY: REMEMBERING THE MORAL SOUL OF EDUCATION

The higher institutions nowadays faced extreme competition from others institutions, in which they also need to cope with the demand and the expectation of the people surrounding them. Some of the value that is used to be held in the higher institutions seems to be forgotten just for the sake of profit or even for self advancement. This book will discuss "the Humaniversity", a concept that highlights the humanity, knowledge and balance in the higher institutions. Through the concept of "Humaniversity", readers will be exposed to the correlation between "Humaniversity" and theory, spiritual philosophy and historical discourse. This will introduce readers to the Islamic concepts of Adab, which will be briefly discussed in the book.

FOURTH INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION: THE LEADERSHIP DILEMMA

Delaila Abdullah et. al. in reviewing the concept of the Fourth Industrial Revolution and the Malaysian government's initiatives to promote it among youth (Journal of Social Sciences and Humanities, Special Issues, December 2017*) raised some pertinent questions. These include the level of readiness "to live and breathe 4IR." Or the level of comfort having robots to do "the house chores"; and the availability of resources to support such lifestyle as Malaysia approaches the high-income status by 2020. According to the researchers,"the answers lies in how effective the Government program (sic) is in educating the public on the importance of accepting the Fourth Industrial Revolution as the way forward."

The book examines the fields in the science of dentistry and current discussion of dental problems.

FIQH IN FORENSIC MEDICINE THE LIVING FAMILY AND THE DEAD

Different traditions, beliefs, and practices surrounding death are common to all cultures and religions, and have resulted in conflict regarding anatomic dissections and postmortem examinations. This book discusses the issues and concerns of the public, with regards to the legal rulings of autopsy practices in the field of forensic medicine and Islamic teachings. The book discusses facts about forensic medicine, and Islamic rulings in dealing with the remains of Muslims. After observing various disasters such as missing flights and air crashes in Malaysia, it raised several vital questions, which have not been resolved in the context of forensic as well as in the purview of Islamic law. The specialty of this book lies in the writings of eminent experts from various disciplines, such as anatomy, forensic medicine and Islamic law, and the discussion of questions contributed by the students of dentistry on death and its investigation. Hopefully, this book will provide clear explanation with regards to deaths and their management in a more holistic approach under the purview of Islamic teachings

INTRODUCTION TO ISLAMIC AND BUDDHIST PERSONAL ETHICS

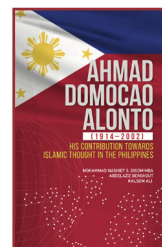

This book seeks to present an introduction to the fundamental ethics of two major religions, namely Islam and Buddhism. Islam and Buddhism are chosen because both are regarded as ethical religions which have their own unique moral teachings or moral systems. Their moral systems are rather apparent, clear, straightforward and understandable. Besides, even though there are many books written on Islam and Buddhism, but only few focuses on comparative study between these two religions. The focus of this book is limited to personal code of ethics of these two religions.

REFUGEES IN MALAYSIA VOICES OF THE DISPLACED

Due to the extensive coverage in the media, the issue of refugees has become one of the most discussed subjects in contemporary media and world politics. This book, Refugees in Malaysia: The Voices of the Displaced provides a detailed analysis of the Malaysian struggle in managing the complexity of the issues pertaining to refugees due mainly to the fact that Malaysia is not a signatory to the 1951 Refugee Convention, which may lead to the lack of a policy for refugees and asylum seekers. The writers provided context on the scale of the refugees at the global and local levels. Readers will learn about the great challenges of the women refugees from Myanmar and Yemen who took refuge in Malaysia. This book also presents the stories of the humans who are forced to migrate and learn about where they come from originally and how they fare in Malaysia. We provided an insider look into their tragedies. We hope that by reading this book we become more compassionate towards refugees, especially women and children.

THE PHILOSOPHY OF ADVAITA VEDANTA AN ISLAMIC ANALYSIS

This book analyses the Hindu philosophical school of Advaita Vedanta from Islamic perspective. The Advaita Vedanta includes non-dualistic ideas such as the manifestation of God, soul and consciousness of existence that create contradictions and confusions in the basics and principles of Islam as they are presented in the name of Islam and Sufism in the Western and Muslim worlds such as International Sufi Order established by Inayat Khan in 1920. This book seeks to address a number of issues linked to the philosophy of Advaita Vedanta in Hinduism, including its significance, definition and features. It attempts to assert that the philosophical thoughts of Advaita Vedanta contradict Islamic fundamentals. Although there are divergences within Advaita Vedanta, the main concepts found in almost all versions are about the Cosmos as a comprehensive unity and the sacredness of nature representing God. This belief has no place in Islam and is completely opposite to the concept of tawhīd. Through this book the readers, especially the academicians and students of Comparative Religion and Philosophy will learn several concrete tips to differentiate the Hindu philosophy of Advaita Vedanta from the fundamentals and basics of Islam such as 'Aqidah, tawhīd, Shari'ah, 'Ibadah and tasawwuf.

BEAUTY OF BALANCE FROM THE PERSPECTIVE OF BUILT ENVIRONMENT

The magnificence of the traditional Malay architecture started from a simple dwelling located in a pristine place known as a kampung. Each characteristic of the Malay traditional house has its own connection with nature, a certain description and philosophy that reflects the culture and heritage of the predominantly Malay Muslim community. The house and the village complement each other to create a sense of balance in life. It is from the humble village that life develops into more complex structure economically, socially, and physically. Although the rapid development has somehow changed the existence of the village into a bustling city, there is still a sense of balance in various aspects of life which is necessary to ensure our co-existence with nature.

AMALAN KHURAFAT DI PULAU BESAR, MELAKA MENURUT SYARAK DAN UNDANG-UNDANG (THE SUPERSTITION PRACTICES AT PULAU BESAR, MELAKA BASED ON ISLAMIC LAW)

This book is a study about a superstition in Pulau Besar, Malacca. The author has been uncovering the practice of superstition practiced by the Muslim community in Pulau Besar. The author also elaborates and discusses the superstition based on Islamic views and the provisions of the law in Malaysia. The book also touched on the legal status of the practice of superstition on the Pulau Besar in order to preserve the faith of the local Muslim community and visitors to the Pulau Besar, thus making the Pulau Besar a sharia-compliant tourist destination. The publication of this book is intended to provide an understanding, awareness and enlightenment to the Muslim community about a practice of superstition so that the community will not be caught up in a worship prohibited by Islam.

BEAUTY OF BALANCE FROM THE PERSPECTIVE OF BUILT ENVIRONMENT

The magnificence of the traditional Malay architecture started from a simple dwelling located in a pristine place known as a kampung. Each characteristic of the Malay traditional house has its own connection with nature, a certain description and philosophy that reflects the culture and heritage of the predominantly Malay Muslim community. The house and the village complement each other to create a sense of balance in life. It is from the humble village that life develops into more complex structure economically, socially, and physically. Although the rapid development has somehow changed the existence of the village into a bustling city, there is still a sense of balance in various aspects of life which is necessary to ensure our co-existence with nature.

BUDI DAN SAINS ALAM MELAYU (VIRTUE AND MALAY NATURAL SCIENCE)

This book is compilation of the works consist of 15 chapters. The beginning is an opening discourse that defines the title and provides a detailed intellectual context for the book's contents. The title Budi dan Sains Alam Melayu (Virtue and Malay Natural Sciences) was chosen because the author believes that "Budi" is the Malay original teacher who embraces moral ethics, wise reason and guides the heart to make good judgments. It is this element of wisdom that forms the basis for exploring the natural world and generating scientific thought to develop technology. The chapters are organized into five themes: i. Habitat, ii. Ecology, iii. Sound, iv. Remedies and v. Design. All these themes are chosen to emphasize the concept of embracing, rather than being limited to specific materials, artifacts or manufacturing processes alone. For instance, the "habitat" theme is selected to highlight Malay architecture and landscapes because habitats encompass construction, environment, constructed structures, and the philosophy of environmental development.

A NEW EXPANDED EDITION: NURTURING A BALANCED PERSON: THE LEADERSHIP CHALLENGE

We commit with a sense of urgency to a single, renewed education agenda that is holistic, ambitious and aspirational, leaving no one behind. This new vision is fully captured by the proposed SDG 4 "Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all" and its corresponding targets.

It is transformative and universal, ... and addresses global and national education challenges. It is inspired by a humanistic vision of education and development based on human rights and dignity; social justice; inclusion; protection; cultural, linguistic and ethnic diversity; and shared responsibility and accountability. We reaffirm that education is a public good, a fundamental human right and a basis for guaranteeing the realisation of other rights. It is essential for peace, tolerance, human fulfilment and sustainable development. We recognise education as key to achieving full employment and poverty eradication. We will focus our efforts on access, equity and inclusion, quality and learning outcomes, within a lifelong learning approach.

KAMPUNG : REFLECTION ON BALANCED IN DEVELOPMENT

The word kampung is a direct Malay translation of the term village in English. There is a wealth of references and meanings to the word kampung in the local language. The articles here speak of heritage and traditions where the village still exist, thrive or are on the brink of extinction. They speak of how people and writers, including themselves, imagine their village to be. But this is certainly not all that is being said. Much more have captured the attention of researchers as shown in their narratives. Systems of values and their unique meaning in the local context are the subject of lively and vibrant analysis. It is expected that this book could revitalise our attention on the importance of kampung as the foundation of balanced development.

RAWATAN SAKIT CACINGAN DALAM MANUSKRIP PERUBATAN MELAYU (TREATMENT OF WORM INFECTIONS IN MALAY MEDICAL MANUSCRIPTS)

Interested in the local wisdom of the Malay community when it comes to treating illnesses? This book delves into the medical methods practiced by Malays to treat worm infections. The Malay society holds a high level of social integrity within their environment. They are knowledgeable about local spices, herbs and their benefits and appropriate methods of consumption. Hence, various measurements, such as a handful or a pinch, are found to be used by the Malays. They also identify specific parts of plants with medicinal benefits, whether it be the leaves, stems, fruits, bark, roots or flowers. Moreover, they are aware of the nutritional and economic value of each type of plant that can be used as fragrances and basic cosmetic ingredients.

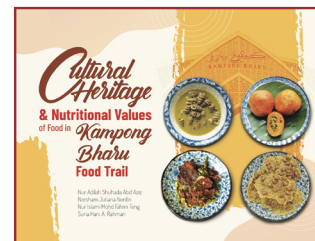

This book comprehensively discusses 25 treatment methods for worm infections found in seven Malay medical manuscripts housed in the National Library of Malaysia (PNM) and the Leiden University Library, Netherlands. In summary, Malays possess their unique medical tradition born out of their culture and interaction with their surroundings.
